PATRIOTISM DISPLAYED — John C. Lloyd Jr. of rural Venedocia is shown above sporting an American flag as he cultivates his soybeans. The flag is quite noticable and has even been seen by military jets as they fly low over his farm. The pilots have dipped their wings as they swept past, the Lloyds reported. Since this picture was taken, the flag pole met with an accident but repairs soon will be underway, stated John's wife Mary Ellen.
